If all the canal and deep waterway projects are carried out our country will be a second Holland, without the sea dykes.

The knowing ones are busy making up cabinets for Taft, but we do not see many Southern men on any of the slates.

What will the rogues be up to next? The Newbern Journal mentions the stealing of a steamboat in that city. It was done to get metal to sell to junk dealers.

When one considers the immense number of bushels of corn and wheat and other farm products raised in this country, a 3 per cent. increase amounts to a pretty big item.

It is to be hoped our Government will not grant Russia's demand for the return of the fugitive Pouren. He is doomed if it does. Besides, Russia has not put herself in position to ask such favors of our Government.

While they are considering what to do with Roosevelt after March 4th, why don't they hunt up a good job for Bryan—something that will so content him that he will not care to run for President four years hence?

If they can't defeat Cannon for Speaker how can they change the rules he and his henchmen have formulated to make him absolute ruler of the House, as has been suggested should be done?

The Durham Herald speaks of John Temple Graves as the only Southern man in the Presidential race. Did it forget Colonel Tapp,, of Georgia, or consider him as having made no run at all, though a nominee?

Now that it has been officially determined that the American Tobacco Company is a trust, we suppose the next step will be to decide whether it should be classed among the good or the bad ones. If the latter, what then?

The Charlotte News illustrates Carmack's murder. The picture is called the "Freedom of the Press." A typical Southerner is standing in mournful attitude by two tombstones, with the name "Carmack" on one and "Gonzales" on the other.

At the present time twenty of the forty-six States have Democratic Governors. After the Governors-elect are inaugurated four or five Democratic Governors of Republican States will be added to the list. That doesn't look like Democracy is dead.

FORM CREDIT BUREAU

Wilmington Jobbers of All Lines to Meet at Chamber of Commerce Today.

TAKE PROGRESSIVE STEP

Wholesale Merchants and Business Men to Form Association For Mutual Advantages Afforded by Organization.

A call was issued yesterday for a meeting of all Wilmington jobbers of every line to be held at 11:30 o'clock this morning in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, on North Front street, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of establishing a credit bureau and clearing house to be affiliated with the National organization of the same character with headquarters in Chicago.

The need of such an organization among the wholesale dealers of Wilmington has been felt for some time and recently information was sought from other jobbing centers as to the success of the plan in those cities. The expressions from business men were unanimous in their high comdendation of the value of the service and the meeting of the Wilmington jobbers today is for the purpose of going into the matter very exhaustively here to ascertain if it is desired to form a similar organization. Some 15 or 20 wholesalers have been approached on the subject but many have not been seen and the invitation is directed through the press this morning for all wholesalers to be present. It is hoped to interest all wholesale dealers in groceries, hardware, boot sand shoes, fertilizers, drugs and, in fact, in every line. The bureau will be for the interchange of credit information with members and with other cities, Charleston, Savannah, Jacksonville and many of the other Southern ports being already organized. It is proposed to form the Bureau here either independently or in connection with the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce with a competent manager in charge. While it will require some money to maintain an organization of the kind, a prominent wholesale merchant stated last night that he believed the bureau would save Wilmington jobbers not less than $500,000 a year.

It is hoped there will be a very large attendance today and whether the merchants of the wholesale class desire to enter into the arrangement or not, they are invited to come and hear the plan fully discussed.

FOOTBALL SATURDAY.

Great Game is Promised Between A. & M. and Wilmington.

Tickets will be placed on sale this morning at the Mission Pharmacy, the Gerken Tobacco Company and DeRosset's Book Store for the football game to be played at New League Park on Saturday afternoon betwen the Wilmington team and the A. & M. Second team, which will probably be one of the hardest fought gridiron battles ever seen in this city. The tickets will be sold at the one price of 50 cents, this including admission to any part of the grounds.

The local team, in anticipation of a hard fight, is being put through a strenuous practice every day and the men are rapidly getting into the pink of condition. The college team is one of the best aggregations of football players in the State and they are coming to Wilmington with the determination of carrying away the scalps of the local eleven, but Coach MacRae and Captain Smith are equally as determined that their team will do all the scalping that is to be done.

Football as a sport has recently grown into great favor in Wilmington, and it is likely that a tremendous crowd will witness the contest on Saturday.

DIED IN ALABAMA

Remains of Late Mr. C. D. Townsend Arrive in Robeson for Burial.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Nov. 11.—Mr. Clarence D. Townsend, a native of this county and for several years engaged in business in Lumberton, died in Florence, Ala., Sunday afternoon where he had gone to engage in business, being stricken down with fever soon after his arrival there.

The remains, accompanied by Mr. Lester Townsend, brother of the deceased, arrived here last night, and the funeral service was conducted at the family burying ground at Back Swamp church today at 11 o'clock, Rev. C. H. Durham, officiating. Mr. Townsend is survived by a wife and four children, who reside here; also a mother and two brothers.

Death of Little James Bryant.

Friends will learn with deep regret of the death of little James Bryant, infant son of Mr. Spencer D. Bryant, which occurred yesterday morning at the James Walker Memorial hospital, after an illness of several weeks. The infant's mother died only recently and the tenderest sympathy is extended Mr. Bryant in his sad double bereavement. The remains were sent to Rocky Mount last night, where the funeral and interement will be today.

BRITISH ARMY OFFICER

Lieutenant General Francis Iredell and Family on Visit to Wilmington Relatives—Being Shown Many Courtesies.

Lieutenant General Francis Iredell, of the British Army, retired, and a descendant of the eminent jurist, the late Associate Justice Iredell, of the United States Supreme Court from North Carolina, accompanied by Mrs. Iredell and daughter, Miss Violet Iredell, arrived in the city on Tuesday afternoon and are spending several days in the city on a visit to Wilmington relatives, being guests at the home of Capt. Thomas D. Meares, on Market street.

While in the city General Iredell is being shown many distinguished courtesies and quite a large number of friends and relatives have been more than pleased to meet him and members of his family. As previously noted Gen. Iredell and party are on a visit of some length to America and are now returning to London from a trip to the Pacific coast where Gen. and Mrs. Iredell visited a son, who is proprietor of a large ranch there.

On Tuesday evening the Mayor, Bishop Strange and others called officially to pay their respects to the distinguished visitor at the home of Capt. Meares and yesterday Gen. Iredell and friends called informally at the British Vice Consulate in this city, where they were most cordially received. Through the invitation of the Vice Consul, the distinguished visitor was extended the courtesy of a trip over the mammoth compresses of Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, where all the large British steamers, which are largely engaged in the cotton trade from this port, dressed ship in honor of the General.

Yesterday afternoon Gen. Iredell and his host with several friends went for a delightful automobile ride along some of the fine thoroughfares for which New Hanover is now becoming famous. The visit of General Iredell and his interesting family has been a source of great pleasure to relatives and friends and their departure today or tomorrow will be generally regretted.

MUNICIPAL CONVENTION.

Attractive Programmes Received in City Yesterday—The Visitors.

Very attractive programmes under embossed covers were received in the city yesterday for the forthcoming Municipal Convention to be held in Charlotte Nov. 17th and 18th. The invitation is to all mayors, aldermen, commissioners, city attorneys, city physicians, city engineers and superintendent of water works in all of the cities and towns of North and South Carolina and it is estimated that fully 400 visitors will be in attendance. The convention will open Tuesday noon with prayer by Dr. H. H. Hulten, addresses of welcome by Gov. Glenn and Mr. D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte; responses by Gov. Ansel, of South Carolina, and Mayor Boyden, of Salisbury, temporary and permanent organization. The remainder of the afternoon will be taken up with a car ride about Charlotte, after a business session. Other business sessions and a banquet at the Selwyn Hotel will be held on Thursday.

One of the disappointments is that Mayor Reyburn, of Philadelphia, cannot be there. However, such men as Mayor H. D. Rice, of Houston, Texas, where the commission form of government is proving a success; Mayor Geo. A. Hibbard, of Boston; Assistant Surgeon General J. W. Kerr, of Washington; Mayor Joel H. Cutchin, of Roanoke, Va., and others will be present.

PROGRAMME ANNOUNCED.

For District Meeting of Juniors Tomorrow and Saturday.

The committee on arrangements selected from the local Junior Order councils to make necessary provision for the district meeting tomorrow and Saturday, when some 250 delegates will be in attendance from various lodges, have announced the programme for the opening occasion at the Academy of Music tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

As previously stated the principal address will be delivered by Prof. Chas. E. Brewer, on "What the Order is Doing For Education," and there will be other notable features.

The invocation will be by Rev. K. D. Holmes, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, followed by an address of welcome by L. Clayton Grant, Esq. Following the address of Prof. Brewer, who will be introduced by Mayor W. E. Springer ,"The Star Spangled Banner" will be sung and the benediction will be pronounced by Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D. The exercises in the Academy will be followed on Saturday by two other sessions.

Institute Opens This Evening.

The Woman's Missionary Institute in the First Baptist Church, beginning this evening according to the programme previously published, promises to attract much attention. The institute party, which will arrive today from Wadesboro where an institute was concluded yesterday, is composed of Mrs. Hight C. Moore, wife of the distinguished editor of the Biblical Recorder, Raleigh; Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, Raleigh; Miss Mark K. Applewhite, Charlotte, and Miss Elizabeth N. Briggs. Raleigh.

LATE JOHN E. CROW

Striking and Handsome Tribute to Departed Citizen Paid by Business Community

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Special Meeting Yesterday at Noon to Hear Report of Committee on Resolutions—Many Uersonal expressions.

Handsome tribute was paid by the business community of Wilmington to the memory of the late John Ennes Crow at a special meeting of members of the Chamber of Commerce, called yesterday at noon for the purpose of receiving a report from the committee appointed several days ago to draft suitable resolutions upon the death of their beloved associate and valued citizen.

Not only was a mere formal tribute paid to Mr. Crow in the resolutions, but several members took occasion personally to "lay a tribute on the bier of a friend," as was so well expressed by President Taylor in the remarks he submitted. The attendance was large and representative of nearly all lines of commerce, while many from the more private and professional walks of life were present. The president called the meeting to order, stating its object and asking Mr. William Calder to read the report of the committee, which he did, prefacing the reading with a warm personal tribute to the deceased. The resolutions, which were unanimously adopted by a rising vote after different members had spoken, are as follows:

"Verily, 'In the midst of life we are in death,' and seldom has this solemn truth been more forcibly brought home to us than in the sudden passing of our late friend, John Ennes Crow.

"Coming to our city in the full flush of early manhood he soon won a place in the esteem and confidence of uor people, and for many years his intelligent activity has been a feature of our social and commercial life.

"Possessing an active mind and engaging manners he illumined the prosaic ways of traffic by illustrations gathered from a wide reading, so that he was ever a welcome visitor in whose conversation the sordidness of trade was relieved by the refinements of a cultured and bouyant nature.

"Adversity could not subdue, nor prosperity spoil, him, and always, everywhere, he was the manly man, the courteous, considerate gentleman.

"Valiant soldier and faithful citizen, he could not fail in those more intimate relations of husband, father, friend, and in these his life has been an ensample and a benediction.

"In the very exercise of his business energies, with no premonition, and without an hour of grace, his account was closed.

"The call was sudden, and we may doubt if even he had time to realize its dreadful portent, but it is something for us to remember that his cheerful spirit was spared the knowledge of the coming shadow, and his tender heart the pain of lengthened partings.

"'In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye,' his summons came—his soul had passed from life to death—from time unto eternity.

"'Eternity! How know we but we stand
"'Upon the precipitous and crumbling
"'Verge of Time e'en now? Eternity below!'

"Deeply sensible of our bereavement it is:

"Resolved, That in the death of John E. Crow our community has lost a citizen of strong personality and marked worth, whose presence will be missed in every walk of life.

"Resolved, That this record be spread upon our minutes, and a copy be sent to his family."

The resolutions were signed by Mr. Calder, Mr. H. G. Smallbones and Mr. Philander Pearsall, members of the committee. Among those, other than Mr. Calder, who made very touching reference to their sense of personal loss in the passing of Mr. Crow were Mr. C. C. Brown, with whom he had been associated in business for a long time; Mr. D. L. Gore, Mr. W. B. Cooper, Mr. B. F. Hall and Mr. J. A. Taylor, who was presiding. Mr. Taylor said in part:

"I would be untrue to myself, untrue to the sentiments of a tender friendship, if I did not lay a tribute, though a feeble one, on the bier of my friend. It is something great to be able to feel, to believe, in contemplating the loss of a friend, that death, though coming suddenly, did not take him at a disadvantage. That his life was such as to relieve us of the wish that he might have been fore-warned so that habits and vices might have been mended. Our friend lived the life of a Southern gentleman, and died a Christian gentleman.

"It is not given to every friendship to know the quality of love. Respect, confidence and service usually make up the sum of this relation, and when these are cemented by love, social relationship has made its masterpiece. Since a lad of fifteen I was privileged to the acquaintance of Mr. Crow, and in later years it was my pleasure to enjoy a friendship whose even current was never marred by the smallest difference. His was a personality which to know was to love, and to have known him well and loved him will always be one of the pleasantest associations of my life. For twenty years I had almost daily intercourse with him, and in the multiplicity of our business relations there was never a transaction which caused me to doubt his fairness, his candor or his honor. A man of deep convictions, he was most tolerant of those who differed with him, and matter not how sharp the line of difference or how emphatic the expression of opposition, he uniformly kept his poise without loss of self-respect and without offense to others. He was of bouyant spirit and ardent hope, and seemed to have a faith in the ultimate triumph of right that never wavered. He was a patriot, and loved his Southland as only one can who had suffered in her defense and drunk deep of the spirit of her cause.

"And as in his business relations his spotless integrity won the respect and confidence of his fellows, so in social life he stood for all that was pure and hopeful and best. I shall miss him, but the wholesome influence of his friendship will remain—an evergreen of memory."

The meeting then upon the adoption of the resolutions, adjourned as a further mark of respect to the deceased member.

ENCOUNTER WITH NEGRO

Policeman J. E. Batchelor's Exciting Experience With Prisoner and Rescuers in Dross Neck Early Last Night.

Policeman J. E. Batchelor, while on his way to the police station yesterday evening about 7 o'clock, had a desperate encounter in the disreputable part of the city known as Dross Neck with a desperate negro, whom he had chased thither from Fourth and Brunswick streets, the negro with the assistance of two others, having finally made his escape.

The officer was on his way from his home to the City Hall to turn out with the night squad for duty and found the negro drunk and disorderly on Fourth street. He carried his club but being only on his way to go on duty, he did not carry a pistol, expecting to thus arm himself when he reached headquarters. Although a big, burly negro, the officer walked up to him and placed him under arrest. The negro was vicious and tore a sleeve from the shirt by which the officer was holding him, then dashed down Terry's alley toward Dross Neck. The officer gave pursuit alone and in his mad chase down the dark alley threw his club at the fugitive with the hope of stopping him. Without stopping to recover the stick, the policeman continued his flight and overhauled the negro in Dross Neck, placing his steel nippers on the prisoner's wrist. It was while here that two or three other negroes came up and bodily took the drunken negro from the officer, who did not yield until he was violently assaulted by one of the rescuers, one of them having kicked him in the side while he suffered a bad sprain of the knee and other injuries in the melee.

The facts were reported to police headquarters at once; in fact, the patrol wagon had already responded to a telephone call for the prisoner before he made his escape and fellow officers of Mr. Batchelor at once came to his assistance for an identification of the unruly negroes.

The man arrested was identified as a negro who is employed at the Armour Fertilizer Works and a persistent search was made for him all night but up to an early hour this morning no arrest had been made.

ARRIVED WITH HIS BRIDE.

Mr. and Mrs. Neill S. McLaurin Here to Spend Their Honeymoon.

Mr. Neill Stedman McLaurin and bride, nee Miss Marie Louise Strobhar, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. H. A. Strobhar, of Savannah, Ga., arrived in the city on the early train from the South this morning and will spend a part of their honeymoon in Wilmington with the groom's father, Mr. L. W. McLaurin, No. 619 Chesnut street. They were married at the residence of the bride's parents in Savannah at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and left immediately for Wilmington, arriving here on the early train this morning. They will be most cordially received by the many friends of the groom in this city. Returning to Savannah, where Mr. McLaurin has a fine position with the Atlantic Coast Line, the bride and groom will be at home after December 1st, at 323 Thirty-eighth street, East.

COAST LINE BUYS RAIL

Pennsylvania Steel Company Reports an Order for 25,000 Tons.

There will be local interest in the following press dispatch recently sent out from Harrisburg, Pa., viz:

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 10.—It was announced here last night that the Pennsylvania Steel company has received an order for 25,000 tons of rails from the Atlantic Coast Line. These rails will be rolled by the Maryland Steel company at Sparrows Point, Md.

Fires were started today in the number one blast furnace in the Steelton plant. The furnace will be placed in operation at once.

DISCUSS RURAL LIFE

Commission Appointed by President Roosevelt in Session Yesterday at Raleigh.

GOOD GOVERNMENT LEAGUE

First Coast Artillery Company at Newbern—Masonic Grand Lodge—Loose Leaf Tobacco Sold. Candidates For Office.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 11.—The commission on Country Life appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate and report on the needs of rural life in the South, spent today in Raleigh in conference with quite a representative company of prominent farmers, country physicians and others, going over the conditions as they exist in this State and possible means of improvement.

Especially notable in the conference were Presidents Foust of the State Normal and Industrial College, and Venable, of the University of North Carolina; J. H. Westbrook, Mt. Olive; James Currie, Cumberland; Dr. W. J. McLendon, Anson, T. Ivey, Wake. The Commission now on a tour of the South consists of Dr. L. H. Bailey, Cornell University; Editor Henry Wallace, of Wallace's Farmer; Editor Walter H. Page, World's Work; Gifford Pinchot, Washington, D. C., and Dr. K. L. Butterfield, Massachusetts Agricultural College. Messrs. Page and Wallace held the hearing today at the A. & M. College. Interesting discussions were held in rural and farm life, in its individual and social aspects by Clarence H. Poe, editor of the Progressive Farmer, who advocated postal savings banks and a parcels post system to transport packages only on routes where they originate; by Commissioner of Agriculture Graham, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Joyner and Dr. Tait Butler, State Veterinarian.

Raleigh's Good Government League is seeking to secure a change in the charter of the city so that the offices of Mayor and police justice will be combined, the aldermen be elected at large instead of each ward sending members and the salaries of city officials reduced in several departments.

The League has designated W. J. Peele chairman of a committee the League will send to Charlotte for the State Convention of Civic Leagues to be in session there November 16th to 18th.

The State Board of Elections, Willson G. Lamb, of Williamston, chairman, meets in this city November 26 to canvass the official returns of the recent election and declare the results. The returns that are to be canvassed are coming in to the Secreatry of State every day now in batches of from 50 to 200, there being three copies of each set of returns from each county. The committee will probably require two or three days to canvass the returns.

Governor Glenn issued a commission today to Col. F. P. Arendell as a delegate from this State to the National Prison Association to convene in Richmond Nov. 14th.

The first of a number of coast artillery companies to constitute a projected coast artillery corps has just been organized in Newbern and will be mustered in by Adjutant General T. R. Robertson, of the North Carolina National Guard, tomorrow night. The captain of the new company is J. H. Weddell. There will be two others and this battalion, which will aid in manning Fort Caswell at the mouth of the Cape Fear river and in such other duty as may be assigned, will be commanded by an officer of Salisbury, who has alread been commissioned major.

Officers of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons are preparing the programme for the elaborate ceremonies that will characterize the dedication of the splendid $125,000 temple of the Grand Lodge just completed here and in which the first session of the Grand Lodge will convene January 12th, the dedication to follow January 13th. Invitations are to be issued to the Grand Lodges of a number of other States, including Virginia, Maryland, District of Columbia, New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, South Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee.

Sales of loose leaf tobacco in North Carolina during October according to official reports to the State Board of Agriculture, aggregate 44,481,120 lbs. of which 41,291,239 lbs. were first hand from planters and the remainder for dealers and re-sold for the warehouses. Winston-Salem led all the Carolina markets with 7,829,588 lbs. Wilson second with 4,623,243; Rocky Mount, third, with 3,101,271; Greenville 2,678,680; Oxford 2,584,583; Kinston 2,771,591.

Candidates are bobbing up now rapidly for various legislative offices when the Assembly convenes here January 6th for sixty days' session. Among the candidates for speaker of the house already out are R. A. Doughton, of Alleghaney; R. H. Hayes, Chatham, and W. C. Dowd, Mecklenburg. R. M. Phillips, a well known newspaper man, is out for reading clerk of the house. F. B. Arendell, who has served for several terms, will be in the race again for this clerkship.

SUGGESTION TO WILMINGTON BUSINESS MEN.

The Star a few days ago made editorial reference to the fact that the Clinchfield Railroad had contracted to deliver over its new road five cars of coal in Charlotte on January 1st next and we called attention to the further fact that such agreement meant that the connecting link between the present southern terminus of that road and the Seaboard Air Line system would be completed by that time, which also meant the opening of the direct route from our port to the Virginia and Kentucky coal fields. The importance of this fact can hardly be exaggerated. It means great things for our port, especially when considered in connection with the rapid work being done in deepening our waterway to the sea, as shown by Mr. James Sprunt's letter published in yesterday's Star, and the prospects of securing a channel thirty feet deep.

There has not in years been a railroad development of so great importance to our city as a seaport as is the building of this line from the coal fields to a connecting point on the Carolina Central road. This being the case we suggest to our Chamber of Commerce and to the business men generally of this city that the opening of this new line be celebrated here in some appropriate manner. Why not have a train load of coal run to our city from the coal fields direct early in January and have the high officials of the road to meet with our people in welcoming it and properly celebrating this opening up of so important a feature of our city's export business? If not this, then let's adopt some other means of showing our appreciation of the importance of the opening up of this new route. We make this merely as a suggestion to our business men and would like to know how the idea strikes them. The Wilmington people should certainly do something to show that they realize the importance of this new route and that they are going to take advantage of it to increase the export trade of our port.

CHANGES IN THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT.

The German Parliament is making rapid progress in throwing off control of the Emperor. Not until recently would any of its members have dared to so severely criticise his conduct as was done in the public debate last Tuesday; but had one been so bold as to do so he would have been charged with being guilty of lese majesty and been severely dealt with. The ignoring by the Government of the criticism was even more significant and indicative of the change which is taking place than was the fact of it having been made. These things point to the probability in the near future of a ministry responsible to the Parliament and not, as now, solely to the Emperor. This would put the German Government upon a basis much like that of great Britain where the real governing power rests with the House of Commons. The people through their representatives in the legislative bodies are gradually diminishing the powers of the Emperor and the executive heads of departments who are simply his agents or representatives.

CASE OF INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

The fact that the Governments of France and Germany have agreed to leave the controversy over the "Casa Bianca incident" to arbitration is a good sign. It shows that the principle of arbitration of international disputes is growing in favor. This trouble between France and Germany, our readers remember, grew out of the arrest by French authorities of German deserters from the French foreign legion. The agreement between the two Governments is that that one whose agents the arbitration tribunal shall find to be in the wrong shall make an apology to the other. This shows the progress of the peace movement and settlement of international controversies by arbitration. This "Casa Bianca incident" would have been sufficient to cause war between these two countries had it occurred at some time in the past. Countries have gone to war for less cause than that many a time in the not far distant past.

EDWARD W. CARMACK.

In its editorial comment on the killing of ex-Senator Carmack, of Tennessee, the News and Observer pays this handsome tribute to that gifted Southern statesman and journalist:

"The cruel and tragic death of Hon. Edward W. Carmack, of Tennessee, removes the most brilliant and accomplished man in Southern journalism. He won his first spurs in editorial harness in Memphis where the paper he edited was widely quoted for its epigrams and happy sallies and able discussion of public questions. He was then elected to the House of Representatives and in a few months took high stand there. His speech against the Philippine policy of the administration was a masterpiece. Later he was elected to the Senate where he easily became the foremost debater on the Democratic side. He could use satire and invective with more skill than any man in that body since the time of Ingalls. He was well posted upon all public questions, alert, able resourceful, and in a single term won a high place and was highly esteemed by his fellow Senators.

"Like the lamented Gonzales, who was murdered in South Carolina because he fought political evils, the gifted Carmack goes to his grave while fighting for temperance and better methods in politics. The people of Tennessee will avenge his death and brave journalists will see in his brave and manly stand for the right a martyr to Good Government and Honorable Journalism."

There can be no question of insanity raised in the trial of the Coopers for the killing of ex-Senator Carmack. We suppose the plea will be self-defense, the defendants trying to make it appear that Carmack shot first and young Cooper fired to save his own life and that of his father; but the facts so far published point to a deliberate murder—that the Coopers had made threats against their victim and, armed with pistols, were hunting for him at the time of the meeting and subsequent homicide. We hope a Tennessee jury will decide this case squarely on the evidence, will not be governed by any false sentiment and will not let the social standing of any parties concerned influence it in the verdict it shall render.

Since the election it has been suggested that Governor-elect Kitchin should resign his seat in Congress with the idea, we suppose, that Governor Glenn would appoint Brooks to the unexpired term. In the first place, were Kitchin to resign the Governor would have no authority to appoint his successor. To fill the vacancy he would have to order a special election in that district, and goodness knows those people have had their fill of politics for the present. Even if the Governor could fill the vacancy we have no idea Kitchin would resign, for he needs the salary to recoup his campaign expenses.

Of course it can't be proved that Bryanites knifed Parker or that Tammany stabbed Bryan in the back, but there are some mighty curious things about the Democratic vote in certain sections in the last two elections. Nor is it possible to say that Johnson, of Minnesota, or any other Democrat would have stood a better chance of election this time; but there is one thing that ought to be certain, which is that Bryan has been eliminated as a factor in politics so far as the Democratic party is concerned.

If some of these fellows who think that "Taft election prosperity" means a continual soaring of prices in the stock markets don't look out, they will soon wish they had never heard of such a thing. Somebody is going to get burnt and badly so. This prosperity is coming with too much of a rush—on paper—to steadily continue. You "get rich quick" fellows had better keep your eyes skinned for traps and dead-falls. They are set for you, sure.

The Raleigh Times says: "Just suppose Mr. Taft should accept the invitation extended him by Wilmington, to spend the winter there. It would almost be more than envious Greensboro or blustery Charlotte could stand." And how about Raleigh? But, then, none will ever know as Taft has decided to make his Winter home in Augusta.

While Kitchin's majority has been almost definitely ascertained, for some reason it is impossible to find out by what vote Bryan carried the State. It is said this will not be known until the returns are canvassed by the State board. With two counties to hear from Kitchin's majority was 36,604.

It has been suggested that Roosevelt be made Chairman of the Panama Canal Commission. Pretty good idea that if he be put in control of the work only and be required to remain on the spot. He would keep the dirt flying and at the same time would be kept out of mischief at home in the way of meddling in politics.

When we get to electing Senators by vote of the people how will unexpired terms be filled? Will the people consent to Governors making appointments, or will they have to call special elections every time a vacancy occurs as is now the case as to vacancies in the lower House?

CURRENT COMMENT.

—All Arica is said to be stirred up over the coming hunting trip of Theodore Roosevelt. The natives will probably be disappointed when they find he is less than twenty feet high and has not a pet mastodon following meekly at his heels.—Baltimore American.

—The Hon. John Temple Graves, the Atlanta lanier, has achieved a personal and professional triumph in his own State, and his months of melting song have not been in vain. Eighty-five votes were cast for him, for in this case his associate, Mr. Hisgen, did not count. Thus Georgia shows her abiding love for beauty and poetry. We have not heard what Colonel Sid Tapp's vote for President was.—New York Sun.

—The men of the American machine guns and mountain batteries are to adopt the bolo of the Filipino as a weapon. The bolo will swing from the left sides of the men, and it is expected that it will prove a formidable weapon in close quarters. Bolos have proven so even in the hands of the Filipinos, who, though small, are usually strong and active. It is said that the Filipino bolos have inflicted greater damage upon the American troops than have their rifles. It will remain to be seen what stomach the Filipinos will have for the steel when it is turned upon themselves.—Savannah News.

—The South casts the votes for the Democratic party in the electoral college, but has no share in the directing of the party. That honor is transferred to men of the character of Norman Mack, of Tom Taggert, Fingy Connors, Murphy and McCarren. We are not prepared to assert what the future of the Democratic party will be, but as long as the party is dominated by such men as those we have named, it will fail to command the respect and support of the thoughtful and intelligent vote of this country, and this fact must be fully realized this instant. This is the real answer to the oft-propounded question, "What is a Taft Democrat?" It is not difficult to understand why these men forsook the party, nor do they merit condemnation and a lashing out of the party.—Roanoke Times.

—That is an interesting "follow story" to the sensation produced in Europe by the appearance of exceedingly out-spoken interviews with Kaiser Wilhelm in the London Telegraph. The Century Magazine announces that it has permitted William Bayard Hale, a prominent journalist, to withdraw an article entitled, "An Evening With the German Emperor." Behind that brief statement is a good deal of dramatic detail. To grant Dr. Hale this permission, it is said, the Century had to destroy the entire edition of its December number and cast new plates for a considerable portion of it, as the sheets were all printed and ready to go to the binder. Of course, a loss of many thousands of dollars is involved, even if confined to the delay and the absence of a startling article. The German government would probably consider itself lucky to get this latest edition of the monologues of the Kaiser suppressed by reasonably compensating both Mr. Hale and the magazine for the work and time wasted in listening, writing, and printing.—Norfolk Landmark.

—Manufactures, the organ of the National Association of Manufacturers, in its November issue prints a group of articles of an extremely practical and pertinent sort. They are written by manufacturers, and relate to the actual working of the present tariff, and to the essential principles that should guide in its revision. The authors are Mr. Van Cleave, the President of the association; Mr. Miles, the Chairman of the Tariff Committee of the association; Mr. Parry of the Parry Manufacturing Company, and Mr. Tompkins of the United States Industrial Commission. All these gentlemen agree that the protective principle should be preserved and respected. All agree that in the present tariff that principle is perverted and misinterpreted, not necessarily with evil purpose, but because the law was made in a helter-skelter, bargain-counter fashion, by men who knew little of the subject, under the influence of men who were pursuing their private ends. Naturally they advocate a complete change in the mode of dealing with revision from that employed in framing the tariff.—New York Times.

—Now that the presidential election, with its uncertainties and excitement, is disposed of, the country at large, and the South in particular, should turn all attention towards business interests. There are abundant signs that the stagnation which followed in the wake of the financial panic of 1907 is rapidly passing away. Factories which were compelled to close or resorted to short time have not only resumed, but are running full time; the transportation companies, which complained of uncommon inactivity during the past spring and summer, are now taxed almost to their capacity in moving the crops and accommodating the expanding business of the factories. With such conditions existing and with fine crops of all products being marketed the revival of prosperity must soon extend to all lines of business, including distributive trade. As soon as the farmers have marketed their crops and paid off their debts they will have a surplus to spend for all manner of supplies. This alone will stimulate general business. The banks will soon feel the effect of the repayment of loans due to crop-moving requirements and there will be money in abundance to aid all sorts of business enterprises.—New Orleans Picayune.

Talk About Your Store!

GEO. O. GAYLORD
Can Do That.

He has the whole thing in the way of dry goods under one roof. This great store has 40,000 feet of floor room and every nook and corner is piled up with merchandise which brings comfort to your home. The splendid Clothing store is situated at No. 208 N. Front street, and his four clever salesmen in this Department would take pleasure in showing you their assortment. We have just received this week a splendid assortment of all wool creaseless water proof coats, and prices much cheaper than usual, I bought them at a special close-out sale late in the season and am offering a $15.00 coat for $10.00, and a $20.00 coat for $12.50, and we have a splendid coat which we are showing today that is especially good for the price, which we are offering for $6.50. We are showing a line of Hodgman Hyde grade Cravenet, water proof, dust proof, wind proof, and spot proof, ladies and Misses and children's coats that we are selling for $5.00, $6.00 and $6.50. They are the newest things on the market.

Just received this morning 25,000 yards of colored chambrays worth 10c per yard, all pretty shades now on sale at 8c per yard.

Just a word about Blankets. We have everything in this line. A lovely 7-pound blanket made in Western Mills and soft and all wool, they are $7.00 a pair. 11-4 Blanket, all wool, white with different color borders, $5.50 a pair. The 10-4 Blanket, they are cracker-jacks. They weigh four pounds, they are today $3.60 a pair. A great big cotton blanket, soft and warm, $1.50 a pair. Heavy weight wool blanket in colors, grey at $1.00 a pair. A pretty 10-4 blanket in cotton in fancy patterns that would be cheap at $1.00, we have them at 75c per pair, and we also have a good cotton blanket at 23c each. If this is not enough styles, we have others. We want your blanket business and if prices will get it we will have it. Remember our Comforts and Quilts, they are just the same as the blankets. We are showing a line that are strictly Elderdown quilts from $5.00 each down to 69c each. White quilts for 60c each to $2.50 each.

Just received this week a big line of new dress goods and silks, have not got room to describe them but the goods are here and the prices are right. December patterns, Magazines and Fashion sheets are ready for your inspection. Don't forget the Big Store when you want toys, the mother that wants something special in the way of toys, she can get it here and everything that she is looking for in that line. Also including Go-Carts and Baby Carriages, as I said in the first off-start, this Store has the whole thing and if you don't see it ask for it.

Now Is the Time to Advertise in The Star.

[Original.]

Joel Throggs was a driver on the towpath. Joel was reaching an age where he wished for a home. He admitted to himself that he couldn't have a home without a woman, and he never stopped long enough to do any courting. He was always moving on the towpath, and how can a man make love who is continually walking behind a horse or a mule pulling a canalboat?

On the route was a little unoccupied house across the road from the towpath that Joel would have coveted if he had had a wife to put in it. One day when he passed he saw smoke curling from the chimney and a woman at a window. After passing and repassing on several trips he made up his mind from observation that the woman lived alone.

Here was an opportunity, the first he had ever had. He resolved to take advantage of it. Before starting on one of his trips he prepared a small board, on which he wrote in chalk:

dere Maddam. I would be hapy to mak yure aquaintence. I am driven a mule on the towpath. JOEL THROGGS.

On reaching the house in question he threw the board into the yard without stopping his mule. This was Mr. Throggs' first love letter. It was not very neat—indeed, it was somewhat bulky—but they say "Love laughs at locksmiths." Why shouldn't the little god smile benignly on a board billet doux?

When Joel passed the house on his return trip, on the end of a chicken coop had been chalked:

I shud be pleezed to make yourn.
MAHULDY WIGGINS.

So far so good. Joel had not prepared stationery, wooden or otherwise, for a reply, so it was not till he came along on his next trip that he responded. Then he ran across the road between the towpath and the canal and set the top of an old table on the gate, on which he had written:

I wud esteam miself onered ef you wud tak a ride with me on my nex trip. The mule has a easy gate. Bring a piller to set on.

But the course of true love can't be expected always to run smooth. When Joel passed again the end of the chicken coop glared with big chalk letters:

Can't. Out to work all day.

Joel was despondent. Not only was he tied to the towpath, but his love also was at work. He thought the matter over as he jogged along, now and then gently laying his whiplash on the back of his mule, and when he reached the terminus prepared another letter, a longer one—so long that he needed more room to write it. He selected the door of the canalboat cabin, which he took off its hinges, lay on the deck and wrote as follows:

dere Mahuldy, I saved 50 dollers. Im lookin fur a home were two harts kin beet together. Sposen I jine with you an we work your yard fur garden truck fur the market. Prises is hi in town. Stay hum nex time I pas, wensday. Ile ride you a few miles, an we can tawk it over. Ile pay you the days wages.

On passing the house the next time Joel carried this bulky letter to the premises and set it up against the fence.

When Joel passed the following Wednesday afternoon Mahuldy was waiting for him with a pillow "to set on." Except for the lack of several front teeth and one eye gone she wasn't bad looking. Joel was much pleased. He helped her up on the mule's back and walked along beside her. She told him that she was a widow with no incumbrances. She had been permitted to live in the house rent free. It had no especial value, and the land wasn't worth $50 an acre. She accorded with Joel's plan, especially as he had money enough to buy the place and stock it. But she was somewhat coy about marrying a man she had never seen before and wanted time to consider.

Joel's only objection to delay was that they would wish to communicate, and this was difficult. He had already been obliged to use the door of the canalboat. As his passion grew he would need more space. The only larger stationery he could think of was an old tent he possessed. He might rip out a side, write his message on it and set it up on poles when he passed. If he needed a still larger space, he might use the whole of one side of the canalboat.

Mrs. Wiggins thought the matter over and found that her modesty would not admit of such open lovemaking. She said the neighbors might get on to it. Joel didn't care for the neighbors, but objected to the trouble of getting up such big messages. He said mournfully that "if they kep' a-growin' he'd hev to use the mainsail of a 600 ton schooner before they were married."

This settled the matter. Mrs. Wiggins, who had already ridden three miles, got down from the mule. It was agreed between them that Joel should resign at the end of the month from his position of mule driver and assume the position of husband. But in the interval Mahuldy was to stay at home. In order that they might converse when he passed he was to buy a megaphone for himself and one for her. They were to commence the dialogue when he was half a mile away and keep it up till they were half a mile apart. Having arranged all this, Joel handed her $1 in lieu of the day's wages and kissed her, and she set off back to her home.

In due time they were married. The county turned out to the wedding uninvited, the bride wondering how they knew about it. OSCAR COX.

PHIFER DIES OF WOUNDS

Was Murdered by Ben Barge—Verdict of Coroner's Jury.

After lingering since Monday afternoon, John Phifer, colored, who was shot by Ben Barge, Jr., also colored, died yesterday morning at 1:30 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial hospital. Phifer sustained a pistol shot wound under the heart and the bullet ranged to the right. He was so dangerously wounded that there was little chance for him to survive its deadly effects, however, he lived much longer than at first thought. It will be recalled that Phifer and Barge quarreled over a crap game, a small amount of money being involved in the dispute. Barge claimed what was due him from Phifer and his refusal to give up the money was the direct cause of the murder. Since the affair occurred Barge has been a fugitive. It was intimated yesterday that the murderer was in the city, but a diligent search by the police failed to reveal his whereabouts.

Coroner Bell with a jury composed of Messrs. J. J. Furlong, John W. Gafford, D. R. Foster, W. L. West, S. W. Ketchum and M. J. Jackson held an inquest yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Court House. William King and John Louis Smith, both colored, eye-witnesses to the tragedy, were examined, and related in detail the circumstances, which made it appear in every way to have been a cold-blooded murder. This evidence was sufficient for the jury to agree upon the verdict, "That John Phifer came to his death from a gun shot wound inflicted by Ben Barge, Jr." Every effort will be made to apprehend the murderer, but as yet no clue has been discovered that would lead to his arrest.

They Take the Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels, without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. 25c.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Dr. Hale will preach a special sermon to men and boys in the series of revivals now in progress at Southside Baptist Church tonight. All boys and men are cordially invited.

—John Justice, a white lad, was arrested yesterday afternoon on Dock street by Officer J. T. Smith, on suspicion of having stolen brass, and was placed in the guard house to await trial in the police court today.

—A number of cases were tried in the Mayor's court yesterday and very readily disposed of. Dick Wilson, colored, who only a few days ago completed a term on the roads, was tried for being drunk and disorderly and was sent back to the roads to serve another 30 days.

—Officer H. W. Howell killed a dog yesterday afternoon on Fourth street between Grace and Walnut, reported to have shown symptoms of hydrophobia. The officer was summoned by people in the vicinity and the canine was found in the middle of the street, where he was shot.

—The Literature Department of the North Carolina Sorosis will hold its first meeting at the Club rooms this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. All members wishing to join this department are requested to meet promptly at the above hour. The meeting is called half an hour earlier than usual.

—Constable Savage yesterday arrested Robert Martin, colored, on a warrant issued on the affidavit of his wife, Annie Martin, charging abandonment and non-support. Herbert McClammy, Esq., has been retained by the defendant and the case will be tried before Justice Furlong this morning at 11 o'clock.

—Lizie LeGrande, colored, appeared at the police station yesterday morning, her head covered with blood and complaining that she had been struck with a brick heaved at her at 17th and Market streets by Sallie McKoy, also colored. The injured woman was sent to the hospital and the police were sent out with a warrant for Sallie McKoy.

Philanthropic Society of University Passes Resolution on His Death.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 11.—The Philanthropic Society, of the University of North Carolina, as an expression of its grief over the death of Mr. John H. Cooper, of Clinton, N. C., one of its loyal members, has passed the following resolutions:

First—In the death of Mr. Cooper, the Philanthropic Society has lost an esteemed member, the University one of its valued students and the State a promising young man.

Second—That we extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved family over our mutual loss.

Third—That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, to the "Sampson Democrat," "The News-Dispatch," the University publications and that a copy be incorporated in the minutes of the Philanthropic Society.

Well Known Lecturer Appear for Benefit of Playgrounds Fund.

Dr. H. W. Sears, the popular lecturer and humorist, appeared last night at the Academy of Music as the second in a course of entertainments for the benefit of the Playgrounds Fund. He was introduced by Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., pastor of Saint Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and for an hour or more kept the interest of his audience with him. As a platform lecturer, he is pronounced by those who heard him, the peer of any man heard in Wilmington in many seasons. His appearance was not only a literary feast but the presence of many ladies and gentlemen identified with the playgrounds movement, made it a social affair of prominence. The audience should have been larger.

NEW CHURCH AT BURGAW

Corner-Stone of Episcopal Edifice to be Laid Soon.

Rev. Thomas P. Noe returned last night from Burgaw, where he met with the members of St. Mary's Mission of that place to complete arrangements for the laying of the corner-stone of the new brick church, for this very active mission begun by Rev. Mr. Noe more than a year ago.

Although the membership is small, they decided some time ago to build an attractive small church and the cornerstone will be laid with impressive ceremonies, on Tuesday, November 24th at 2:30 o'clock.

The people of Wilmington are cordially invited to attend this service. The fraternal organizations of Burgaw are expected to take part in the ceremony and short addresses will be made by several ministers and other citizens.

Florence Gear in "Marrying Mary."

It is pleasing information that comes in a letter from the press department of the Jules Murry Amusement Enterprises in New York to the effect that Miss Florence Gear in the smart, musical play "Marrying Mary," will be the attraction at the Academy of Music in this city on the evening of November 24th. It is one of the big New York successes and Miss Gear is one of the favorites of all the stars in the theatrical firmament this season.

Preliminary Trial For Wilson.

The case against George Wilson, colored, charged with criminally assaulting Carrie Somers, a young colored girl, will be called for a preliminary trial in Justice Furlong's court this morning at 11 o'clock, having been transferred from the Mayor's court to the magistrate yesterday. The hearing will likely consume some time as a number of witnesses will be introduced in behalf of both the defendant and the State.

Called Conference.

A called conference of the members of the Second Advent Church will be held tonight at 8 o'clock. Business of much importance is to be transacted and a full attendance is desired.

The Theatre

Florence Davis, whose favor has grown in the hearts of theatre goers here with each succeeding visit she has made, will come again to gladden the hearts of lovers of refined comedy tonight at the Academy of Music when she will present her new comedy, "Under the Greenwood Tree," which she secured last Spring after Maxine Elliott's successful engagements in this piece in London and New York.

Miss Davis is presenting it for the first time on a tour of this country, and her many admirers proclaim it as her most complete and striking success. It will be seen here with the entire lavish production of scenery, costumes and effects used in the New York run of this play at the Garrick Theatre.

There is no city of importance in the South in which Miss Davis needs much introduction after her four other successful tours, for she has become so well established in this portion of the country that she might almost be said to be strictly a Southern Star. Elliott Dexter, the handsome and talented young actor who has shared honors with Miss Davis in past seasons, continues as her leading man this season in "Under the Greenwood Tree," and the Garrick Management have surrounded her with a strong supporting cast. Seats went on sale at Plummer's yesterday morning.

All New Act For the Palace.

Everything new will be the programme at the Crystal Palace today in general. In particular, the different artists appearing this week at the popular vaudeville theatre will each be seen in a change of act. This will be especially pleasing, because the change will bring something even better from Billie Rogers, the well known black face comedian, who is a big hit at the Palace, and the Tora Japs will introduce a startling act of juggling. Two members of the family who have not as yet been seen here will participate in the act, which will be even of prettier and more wonderful nature than the one which held forth the first part of the week. Miss Lillian DeResque will be heard in new songs, while Jimmie Wrenn, comedian, and Miss Charlotte Fish, soubrette, will appear in new acts. The change of programme will go on at the matinee performances this afternoon and will continue throughout the rest of the week.

"The Lover's Guide."

The Bijou will offer one of Edison's comedy films today entitled "The Lover's Guide" in which the vagaries of a lovesick youth by the name of "Cholly" and his "intended" are cleverly portrayed. Uncertain of his mastery of the art, Cholly buys a guide to direct his wooing and the various situations into which he is led by the ever-present book keeps the audience in a roar of laughter. There's a laugh in every flicker of the picture and a roar at the end of each scene. Small prices always and "the best seats" for every patron.

ST. JOHN'S BROTHERHOOD.

Officers Elected Last Night—Coming of Archdeacon Webber.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew's church, at its monthly meeting held in the parish house last night, spent the evening largely in discussing the coming of Archdeacon Webber Nov. 20th, and planning all necessary arrangements for his mission services. The Brotherhood is thoroughly alive to the privilege of having these services by a man of such force and spirituality as Archdeacon Webber is said to be, and they are co-operating with the rector heartily in the preparation for them.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Wm. Hull Moore, director; J. C. Douglass, vice director; J. Q. Meyers, secretary; O. D. Holmes, treasurer. In addition to the election of officers, the fourteen members present were organized into various special committees for service in connection with the mission.

MARRIED LAST NIGHT

Popular Tidewater Conductor Claims Bride on Greenville Sound.

Of much interest to many frineds of the bride and groom in this city was the marriage last evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Mr. S. E. Brock, on Greenville Sound, of Miss Ella Brock, an attractive young lady of this county, and Mr. Lucien D. Bishop, a well known and popular conductor of the Tidewater Power Company. The ceremony was performed by Justice George Harriss in the presence of a few friends of the bride and groom after which Mr. and Mrs. Bishop came up on the 9:30 o'clock car to Wilmington and a reception was given them at the home of the groom on Castle, between Second and Third streets, where they will reside in the future. Many friends wish for the couple life's choicest blessings.

Scarborough Sought Revenge.

Joseph Scarborough, colored, yesterday answered two charges in Justice Bornemann's court, growing out of his effort to get revenge on Julius Canady, who appeared in behalf of Scarborough's mother-in-law, whom the latter had before the court on ejectment proceedings. Cannady's part in the case didn't exactly suit Scarborough and this caused trouble between the two. He was held on a peace warrant and for disorderly conduct and the cases were disposed of upon agreement of the defendant to pay the costs in both actions.

Week of Prayer Meetings.

The Week of Prayer meetings at the Y. M. C. A. are growing in interest. The meeting yesterday from 1 to 1:30 P. M. was conducted by Mr. H. W. Malloy. The subject today will be The Railroad and Industrial Associations and Mr. K. W. Price, chairman of the Religious Work Committee will be the leader.

Both the prospective groom and the bride-elect are receiving the happiest felicitations of their friends upon the announcement of their approaching wedding.

ONLY SIX APPEALS

Supreme Court Delivered Only a Few Opinions Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 11.—Supreme Court delivered opinions in only six appeals today. The cases are: Smith vs. Thomas and Hardison, Anson, no error; Little vs. Duncan, Union, error; McKeithan vs. Blue, Moore, affirmed; Harris vs. Cannady, Granville, no error; Cox vs. High Point, Randleman and Southern Railway, Guilford, affirmed; Bray vs. Staples, Guilford, affirmed.

Parents Again Bereaved.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Vereen will tenderly sympathize with them in the death of their infant daughter, Louise, aged one year, which occurred yesterday morning at the family residence, No. 619 South Second street. The death is doubly sad from the fact that only a few weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Vereen suffered the loss of their little son, six years old. The funeral was conducted from the late residence yesterday afternoon and the remains were taken to the former home of the family in Brunswick county for interment.

Receive Thanksgiving Donations.

A committee of ladies will be present this afternoon at the Memorial Building of St. Paul's Lutheran Church to receive contributions for the Orphans' Home at Salem, Va. Each year at this season the orphans are remembered and boxes of useful gifts sent them as well as gifts of money to be used in the maintenance of the Home. The committee will be at the place indicated from 3 to 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Basket Ball Team Organized.

The first of the teams for the Y. M. C. A. basket ball league was organized Wednesday evening by Director Burkhardt. James Farrow was elected captain and will play forward; Paul Fowler, forward; Earl Huband, centre; Geo. Bornemann, guard and Albert Keels, guard. The teams will get down to practice at once and some fast, snappy games are expected.

ELEVEN KILLED IN WRECK

Great Northern Express Crashed Into Local Passenger Ttrain Near New Orleans—Error of Railroad Employes.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—It was a heavy price in human flesh and blood that paid for the errors of railroad employes when a Great Northern express crashed into the rear of a New Orleans and Northeastern local passenger train shortly before 9 o'clock this morning at Littlewoods, a small station on Lake Pontchartrain, 12 miles north of this city. Eleven dead and many more injured, some of them fatally, is the record of the wreck, which was attended by unusually gruesome scenes in the fog-bound swamps.

To add to the horror, the wreck caught fire and only the heroic work of the surviving passengers prevented the cremation of those pinned down in the debris.

The dead are: C. B. Lowry, of Lexington, Ky., Southern representative of American Creosote Works of Chicago; Professor C. E. Roos, New Orleans University; William A. Martin, of Slidell, La., coal merchant of New Orleans; William Attaway, 3 pears old, Slidell, La.; O. W. Travis, Hattiesburg, Miss.; J. K. P. Shous, Morriston, Miss.

Littlewoods has no telegraph station and serious delay was experienced in getting news of the wreck to New Orleans, and it was two hours before a rescue train reached the scene.

A little golden haired boy waved his hands piteously above his head, unable to extricate himself from the wreckage. A score or more of men, some of them strained with their own blood, made heroic efforts to rescue the child but in vain. This child was Willie Attaway, 3 years old son of Mrs. Alphonse Attaway, of Slidell, La. His little body was taken out of the wreck several hour later, horribly mutilated.

An official investigation will be made to determine the cause of the wreck.

FUNERAL OF SENATOR CARMACK

Great Crowds of Sorrowing Friends Pay Tribute to Distinguished Man.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Columbia, Tenn., Nov. 11.—Business was entirely suspended and the people of this city and county, together with large delegations from many other Tennessee counties, turned out in force today to do honor to the memory of the late Senator Carmack. Public buildings were draped out of respect to his memory and a deep gloom pervades this entire community.

The funeral was held at 11 o'clock in the Methodist church. The services were very simple, but impressive and the scenes at the church and at the grave where the distinguishd statesman was laid to rest were such as will never be forgotten by the assemblage present. The funeral services at the church were in charge of Rev. W. T. Boah, pastor of the First Christian church here, the church of which Senator Carmack was a member. Rev. Lion Cave, of Nashville, delivered the address at the church. At the grave the burial was conducted with Masonic honors, the deceased being an honored member of the Masonic order.

THE INLAND WATERWAY.

President Roosevelt Urged to Write a Letter to the Convention.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 11.—Congressman J. Hampton Moore, of Philadelphia, today urged on the President the interests of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways project. There will be a convention on this proposition in Baltimore November 17th, 18th and 19th, and Mr. Moore wants the President to write a letter on the conservation of natural resources of the country to be read at one of its sessions. He also urged the President to designate at least two members of his Cabinet to address the delegates on one of the three days.

There will be delegates from about 20 States at the convention which has for its object the passing of the project of an inland water route from Boston to Beaufort, N. C.

RAILROAD MAN ROBBED.

Mr. Ernest Williams Relieved of Pocketbook, Money and Valuables.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 11.—The police of Raleigh are looking in vain as yet for a clue to the thief who relieved Mr. Ernest Williams, a well known railroad man of Lynchburg, Va., formerly of Wilmington, and robbed him of his purse, containing $50, a large diamond pin and other valuables, including passes over a number of railroad lines. The theft was committed in a Pullman car only this morning on the Southern train from Greensboro. The articles were taken from Mr. Williams' berth while he was in another section of the car for a few minutes.

GIVEN THE FULL LIMIT.

Negro Convicted of Attempted Criminal Assault on a White Girl.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Spartanburg, S. C., Nov. 11.—John Irby, a negro was today convicted on a charge of attempting a criminal assault on Leila Dempsey and was sentenced to serve 30 years in the penitentiary the limit allowed by law in such cases. When court convened two companies of militia were on duty in the court house, which was packed to suffocation. Judge Scumpert dismissed the troops and made an appeal to the people to aid him in preserving order and enforcing the law. He was wildly cheered by the crowd when he dismissed the soldiers.

Assurances were received by wire at Augusta, Ga., yesterday that President-elect Taft will arrive there December 15th for a couple of months' stay.

THE ATTENDANCE GROWING LARGER

Free Out Door Entertainment and Lecture Course is Being Liberally Attended.

RECORD BREAKER LAST NIGHT

People Are Showing Their Appreciation of Col. Dillingham's High Class Entertainment and Valuable Information Imparted by His Lectures.

One of the largest crowds that has yet attended the Dillingham Plant Juice entertainment was present last night at the corner of Front and Market streets, where these performances are now given. Every feature of the vaudeville bill was thoroughly enjoyed, as well as the lecture delivered by Mr. Mills.

It is interesting to mingle with the crowd at these entertainments and listen to the comments made by those in the audience. At every performance there will be found a number of persons who have tried Plant Juice and have been relieved of some form of illness or suffering. The gratitude of these people is boundless and sincere; they appreciate the relief they hav obtained through the use of Plant Juice and, having positive knowledge of its dependable value in the treatment of disease, they unhesitatingly recommend it to their friends and acquaintances. In this manner the fame of Plant Juice spreads and results in the growth of an enormous demand for the remedies such as that now being experienced in Wilmington.

Every hour during the day there is some one at the hotel of Mr. Mills, Col. Dillingham's local representative. They call to seek information as to the powers of Plant Juice, or to talk with him concerning their troubles. These callers are told exactly what the Plant Juice remedies may be relied upon to accomplish; what forms of disease they will cure and those that they will not cure, and when a sufferer is told that Plant Juice will relieve him he is also told that in case it does not he may return the unused portion of the medicine at the end of a week's trial and his money will be refunded if it has not accomplished all that is claimed for it.

The fact that Dillingham's Plant Juice is sold upon these terms has become known over all this section of the State, and hundreds of orders are received by Col. Dillingham and the druggists of Wilmington through the mails. Every bottle sold, whether by mail or in person, is backed by the same strong guarantee that it will accomplish its mission.

Backache pains come from sick kidneys,

'Twould save much needless woe.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Wilmington people endorse this:

Mrs. J. B. Turner, 402 S. Fifth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "My advise to anyone suffering from kidney trouble is to use Doan's Kidney Pills, as from personal experience I know that they are a valuable remedy for this complaint. Backache and severe pains in the region of my kidneys bothered me for a long time. I also had headaches, my eyes pained me and I felt generally run down. When Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me, I purchased a box from Robert R. Bellamy's drug store and used them as directed. They stopped the backache, headaches and acted as a general tonic to my system."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WARM WIRELETS.

Vessels Olympia, Chicago and Standish, now at Annapolis, have been ordered to the Navy Yard at Norfolk for repairs. Their departure, however, will be delayed until the 24th instant because of some exercises which will be held at the Academy the three days preceding.

Members of the American Association and Eastern League walked out of the meeting at Chicago of the National Association of Baseball Leagues yesterday after their request to oust the Southern and Western Leagues from class A. had been denied and a request that the American Association and the Eastern League be allowed to withdraw from the National organization had been likewise refused.

The discussion which has arisen over the dinner which President Roosevelt is to give in the White House Tuesday to a number of labor leaders brought forth from the executive offices yesterday an official statement pointing out that the dinner is not an official one and declining to discuss the omission of President Gompers, Vice President and Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor from the guest list.

An immediate revision of the tariff schedules affecting articles that are alleged to be sold by American manufacturers in foreign markets at lower prices than in this country was urged in behalf of the interests of American farmers by Governor Bachfelder, of New Hampshire, National master, in his annual address yesterday at Washington before the National Grange Patrons of Husbandry. He also made a strong plea for postal savings banks, parcels post and higway appropriations at the next session of Congress.

Evidence of renewed prosperity throughout the Mississippi Valley was presented yesterday in the publication of the amount and value of exports at the port of New Orleans for the month of October, 1908. The total value of all exports at this port during the period mentioned was $12,884,029, an increase of more than $4,000,000 over October 1907. It exceeds that of the month of October during every year since 1900, except 1906.

A man giving his name as C. E. Young of Washington, D. C., and claiming to have been private secretary to Senator Daniel, of Virginia, and an attorney at Washington, is in the city jail at Los Angeles, Cal., with passing half a dozen worthless checks. He came from San Francisco several days ago. Senator Daniels at Lynchburg last night said he had once employed Young occasionally as a stenographer.

THE MAD DUCHESS.

Lady Catherine Hyde and Her Eccentricities of Dress.

Lady Catherine Hyde was the third daughter of Henry, second earl of Rochester and fourth earl of Clarendon, and a great-granddaughter of Edward, the first and famous earl of Clarendon. * * * One of the strongest of her caprices was to be unlike other people, and she succeeded admirably in the attempt. Bolingbroke nicknamed her "La Singularite;" Horace Walpole, more bluntly, "the Mad Duchess." This oddity was specially displayed in her dress. In 1747, after a good deal of intriguing, she had obtained permission to appear again at court, and in 1763 Horace Walpole tells Lord Hertford that she presented herself there in a gown and petticoat of red flannel. Making all allowance for male ignorance on such a subject and Walpole's tendency to embroider a story, it is beyond doubt that she deliberately courted the peculiar in her costume. She was fond of wearing an apron and appeared in one at court after this garment had been forbidden at the royal drawing rooms. Her entrance being opposed by one of the lords in waiting, she tore it off, threw it in his face and walked on. Beau Nash on a similar occasion took the law into his own hands, for when she attempted to enter the ballroom at Bath wearing an apron he promptly stripped it off and threw it among the ladies' maids, observing that none but Abigails appeared in white aprons. It was her fancy as she grew older to disregard the changes of fashion and to adhere obstinately to the dress of her younger days. Her attire at times was so weird that Lord Cornbury wrote, "She has been called 'sir' upon the road above twenty times."—Nineteenth Century.

Womanlike.

"In my opinion," said Jones, "a woman's club to be successful should aim at something far removed from female suffrage."

"I do not agree with you," retorted Miss Strong, with set lip. "That alone should be its object."

"Exactly, but if it aims at something else it is more likely to hit that."—Philadelphia Press.

All Very "Civil."

In certain sections of the country there are much favored words which are required to do duty with a wide variety of meanings. Such is the word "smart" among Yankees and up along the Labrador shore the word "civil." The following conversation between two natives was overheard by a traveler:

"We are goin' to have lots of dirt today," said one, glancing at the sky.

"Naw. It'll be civil," replied his companion.

"How did you get on with the captain?"

"Oh, he got civil to hunting [illegible] by and by. When he went out he [illegible] know nothing, but he got civil."

"Did you go down the Ketchum?"

"Naw. It's too civil for him. He wanted lots of rapids, so we went down the Boomer. Them's about as civil rapids as I want to see."—Youth's Companion.

Adhesive Eggs of Fishes.

Among the fishes which produce adhesive eggs are the little black head minnow (Pimephales promelas) and the goldfish. The male blackhead deposits the fecundated eggs singly upon the underside of leaves of water plants and watches them unceasingly until hatched. The eggs of the goldfish are deposited singly upon the weeds and mosses in a similar manner by the male fish. The eggs of the yellow perch are held together in narrow strips or ribbons of a glutinous character. Adhesive eggs of other species, as the black bass, sunfish, catfishes, etc., are deposited in masses in shallow nests or depressions on the bottom, and still other species deposit their spawn in variously shaped adhesive masses upon water plants, roots and submerged objects.

Papyrus.

The papyrus of ancient times was made from the papyrus plant. The interior of the stalk of the plant after the rind had been removed was cut into thin slips in the direction of their length, and, these being laid on a flat surface in succession, similar slices were placed over them at right angles, and, their surfaces being cemented together by a sort of glue and subjected to the proper degree of pressure and well dried, the papyrus was complete.

HUNTING A HUSBAND.

Sad Experience of a Woman From Illinois in Albemarle, N. C.

(Stanly Enterprice.)

Mrs. Ida M. Clark of Rockford, Ill., registered at the Central Hotel a few days ago, and has been in town since.

We have in our midst a very susceptible old widower and a patron of matrimonial agencies—George W. Lowder.

In some way a correspondence sprung up between Mr. Lowder and the woman; but he avows that he did not invite her to come and that he was under no promise to her. The correspondence seems to have gone no further on his part than to ask her if she would like to come South some time or go to a point in the West where they might meet. She perhaps took encouragement from this, and trusted her charms to work out her salvation.

The would-be bride seems to be stranded, and negotiations of a one-sided nature are pending between the principals, both of whom have employed lawyers. Talk of suicide was rife on Monday when Mrs. Clarke was seen beside the road near town.

Chief Howie, at this writing, has taken her into charitable custody, and arrangements will possibly be made to send her back to her home. She tells a story of poverty in the North, and excuses her action on the ground that a woman is glad of a chance to secure a husband and a home.

This is Mr. Lowder's "severalth" experience, and an injunction ought to be issued against his further matrimonial ventures of this nature.

Is Evidence In Your Favor.

When it comes to establishing your character and business ability ask any business man who employs other men. It means more than that you have so much money in the bank. It is evidence that you have self control and persistance—two traits of character that will carry you far along the road of worldly success and happiness.

One of our Bank Books entitles you to 4 per cent. interest compounded quarterly besides.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Concord Times: Colonel Paul B. Means is the only Democrat elected in the county, except township nominees. He was of course saved by Mecklenburg's big Democratic majority, Cabarrus and Mecklenburg being in the same senatorial district.

—Greensboro Record: Mr. T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary of the North Carolina Audubon Society, has received notice that he had been appointed as one of five composing a Committee on Bird and Game Conservation of the National Conservation Commission, of which Gifford Pinchott is chairman.

—Wadesboro Ansonian: A finger from a human hand was found on the grounds near the carnival last week by a colored man. The finger came, apparently, from the hand of a white woman, but there is nothing connected with the matter to indicate a crime and the finger had been severed from the hand some months.

—Salisbury Post: The monkey belonging to Mr. Walter W. Pool caused a small blaze at the latter's bowling alley on East Council street and created big excitment Saturday afternoon. The monkey in someway secured a match, struck it and dropped it in a pile of papers. The blaze was extinguished before any damage was done.

—Concord Times: A Mr. DePool, a drummer of New York, was afflicted with loss of speech here today. He went to Park's store to sell some goods and found he could not speak. Mr. Ed. Sherrill took him to the St. Cloud-Normandy and summoned Dr. Pemberton, who attended him. It is supposed his trouble was the result of acute indigestion.

—The Robesonian: There was considerable and grateful surprise on election day in Sterling's township when Mr. Hayes Barnes, a brother-in-law of one of the Republican candidates for commissioner and the son of a life-long Republican, voted the straight Democratic ticket. And that one vote was all that kept the Republican candidate for Governor from leading in that township.

—Winston-Salem Journal: Winston-Salem business men, seen yesterday by a representative of The Journal are unanimous in the belief that Winston-Salem and this section of the State will enjoy a period of prosperity the coming year never before equalled in the history of the State. Their views were secured regardless of party and in every case they were asked as to the business outlook.

—Greensboro Telegram: The latest contribution to the supply of information on the Brooks-Morehead Congressional race is that a considerable number of people voted for Morehead, thinking that it was Colonel Jim Morehead they were voting for. How they could have imagined for a moment that Colonel Morehead would run on a Republican ticket is not explained.

—Greensboro Telegram: Rev. W. M. Curtis returned yesterday afternoon from Thomasville. While there he secured from Mr. Frank Lambeth a donation of $1,000 for the endowment fund of Greensboro Female College. Last week a donation of $1,000 was received from Mr. N. D. Sullivan, of Walkertown. The endowment fund now amounts to $80,000 and the college authorities hope to soon increase this amount to $100,000.

—Greensboro Record: In his accustomed health when he retired, Rev. R. Murphy Williams, the beloved pastor of Walker Avenue Presbyterian church woke up during Saturday night suffering greatly. Ever considerate of others, he refused to call a physician until about 5 o'clock Sunday morning, when his sufferings were so acute he could stand it no longer. Dr. Little was called in. He remained with him for some hours, suspecting that he was suffering with appendicitis. In the early forenoon Dr. Little called in Dr. J. A. Williams and the diagnosis showed appendicitis in a somewhat aggravated form and as soon as possible the patient was removed to St. Leo's Hospital, where an operation was performed in the early afternoon, when his condition was seen to be anything but favorable. This morning at 2 o'clock Mr. Williams was resting well and the chances are quite favorable for his recovery.

—Charlotte News: A rather unique suit has been brought against the board of water commissioners of the city of Charlotte by Mr. James A. Houston and Mr. Sam Culp for damages resulting from the removal of a water meter from the house owned by Mr. Houston and rented by Mr .Culp. The facts as alleged in the complaint of the plaintiffs are these: Mr. Clup was due the board for three months' water rental when he moved into a house owned by Mr. Houston. After being in this house for some time he got behind two months rental, and the water board made a demand on Mr. Houston for the rent, not only of what was due by Mr. Culp while a tenant of his house, but also demanded payment of the rental due by Mr. Culp while living in the house of another owner. Mr. Houston tendered the amount due by Mr. Culp for water used while in Mr. Houston's house, but refused to pay the amount due by Mr. Culp before becoming Houston's tenant. Upon this refusal, the water board took the meter from Mr. Houston's house and cut off the water. Mr. Houston is suing the water board for damages on account of alleged trespass in taking out his meter and cutting off the water, and his attorneys state will have a mandamus issued to force the water board to restore the meter and the water to the house owned by Mr. Houston.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words. For years I suffered with the worst forms of female complaints, continually doctoring and spending lots of money for medicine without help. I wrote you for advice, followed it as directed, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has restored me to perfect health. Had it not been for you I should have been in my grave to-day. I wish every suffering woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

GRIDLEY'S LEAVE.

Touching Scene When the Brave Captain Left the Olympia.

On the morning of the battle of Manila Bay Captain Gridley was so ill that the little commodore offered to excuse him from duty, but gallantly, as is characteristic of the man, he replied, "Thank you, Commodore Dewey, but she is my ship, and I will fight her." And he did, although, figuratively speaking, he was a dead man before he went on the bridge, and days had strung themselves into but few weeks when he was ordered home on sick leave. He came up out of his cabin dressed in civilian clothes and was met by the rear admiral, who extended him a most cordial hand. A look of troubled disappointment flitted across the captain's brow, but vanished when he stepped to the head of the gangway and, looking over, saw, not the launch, but a twelve oared cutter manned entirely by officers of the Olympia. There were men in that boat who had not pulled a stroke for a quarter of a century. The stars and stripes were at the stern and a captain's silken coach whip at the bow, and when Captain Gridley, beloved alike by officers and men, entered the boat it was "Up oars!" and all that, just as though they were common sailors that were to row him over to the Zafiro. When he sat down upon the handsome boat cloth that was spread for him he bowed his head, and his hands hid his face as First Lieutenant Reese, acting cockswain, ordered: "Shove off! Out oars! Give away!"—St. Nicholas.

MOUNT ETNA.

Its Wonders as Revealed In Tales of Travelers.

Mount Etna has furnished more material for travelers' tales than any other mountain on the earth. Astonished Englishmen of a century ago who fell into the fashionable habit of climbing to its highest peak—and some did so, to the amazement of the Sicilians, even in the dead of winter—have left on record in the exuberant language of their day the emotions that thrilled their soul. "The man who treads Mount Etna," wrote one of these, "is a man above the world. Every river on the island can be traced from its mouth to its source.

"The characters," the same writer continues, "of all the climates of the earth can be detected—the frigid close around one, the temperate with its belt of trees just underneath and the tropical at the base of the mountain, with its vineyards and luxuriant groves. The great ocean around, with the islands of Lipari, Panari, Alicudi, Stromboli and Volcano, with their smoking summits, appears under your feet, and you look down upon the whole of Sicily as upon a map."

In addition to all the climates, Etna is reported to have trees that rival the giants of California, lakes that never thaw, bottomless caverns and salable snow that kept many an ancient bishop well supplied with tithes.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 11.—The cotton market was nervous and unsettled today, with the close barely steady at a net decline of 6 to 10 points. Sales were estimated at 250,000 bales.

The opening was steady at an advance of 1 point to decline of 1 point which was just about as due on the cables and during the first few minutes the active months sold 1 to 3 points net higher on over night buying orders and scattered covering. But as soon as local bears saw that hedge selling and selling against purchases in Liverpool was in sufficient volume to supply immediate demands, offerings increased and the market weakened, reaching the lowest point during the late trading when it was remembered that one of the leading English statisticians had estimated the crop at 13,550,000 bales. The close was at practically the low level of the day. The difference between Liverpool and New York at the opening of the latter's market this morning was the smallest for the season and a good part of the selling was supposed to reflect unloading of old straddlers.

Southern spot markets, as officially reported early were unchanged to 1-16c lower. Wall street bulls were much less in evidence today, but still professed confidence in ultimately higher prices. Receipts continue heavy and there has probably been some selling in expectation that the next census report will make a bearish showing.

Receipts at the ports today were 75,935 bales, against 68,844 last week and 56,204 last year; for the week 430,000 bales, against 482,433 last week and 357,243 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans were 22,651 bales, against 17,894 last year, and at Houston 25,921 bales, against 10,135 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 6 points lower. Middling uplands 9.30; middling gulf 9.55; sales 1,500 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 11.—The cotton goods market continues active and prices are very firm with an upward tendency. Silk piece goods are in fair request while fancies of certain shades are very scarce. Knit goods and hosiery agents report a much better character of buying although there is nothing yet that indicates a boom. Advances are noted on crashes and some lines of colored cottons that have been held at low figures. Bleached and brown cottons are being advanced for future shipment. Converters are buying freely for future delivery.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 11.—Today's sequel to yesterday's market performance in the two Harriman Pacific stocks opened the eyes of the more conservative element to the fact that the speculation was entering a reckless and hazardous stage. Then came a pause to take stock of the situation and a development of greater caution in the conduct of market operations which was shown by the evident lessening of speculative holdings and decline in the rates of activity in the market. There was a belief prevalent in the financial districts that these results were caused to some extent by regulative measures among the large financial interests. Sales of Southern Pacific recorded today numbered 183,300 shares on which the price fell back to 114 3-4, closing at 116. The two days' dealings in Union Pacific reach a total of 460,200, with a total capitalization of 1,954,879 shares. It was the reasoning from these facts that caused a hasty unloading of speculative holdings and invited professional attack, which broke the market. News from all quarters continued uniformly favorable. The time money market continues to harden and there is reported a notable increase in the supplies of mercantile paper, reflecting enlarged activities of the jobbers and manufacturers. A date was fixed today for the sale on November 23rd of $12,500,000 of 4 per cent. corporate stock of the city of New York.

A widespread general demand continued in evidence and helped to absorb the profit taking. Foreign markets were relieved by the clearing of the international outlook. Vigorous supporting measures were employed at all stages of the selling, showing the continued control exerted by the organized forces on the speculation. Low priced stocks were strong at various periods of the day, some gains reaching to substantial proportions.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, were $4,728,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today were 1,641,600 shares

He Got It.

He had the air of a man who was particularly well satisfied with himself.

"I tell you," he said, "there's nothing like having sickness in the family to convince a man that he can do a good many things that he never would have dared to attempt before. Now, today I am going to buy a gown for my little girl. Her mother can't get out, you know, and so I am going to do it myself."

On the day following he had the air of a man who was particularly dissatisfied with himself.

"What's the matter?" he was asked. "Couldn't you get that gown?"

"Couldn't I get it!" he repeated. "Couldn't I get it! Hang it all, the trouble is that I did get it!"

"Something wrong with it?"

"Something! If it was only 'something' I wouldn't mind. My taste is wrong, my judgment is wrong, the color is wrong, the size is wrong and the price is wrong."—Chicago Post.

When Sleep Was Trumps.

A bridge playing set at an eastern university, who usually turned night into day, used to appear at morning chapel with remarkable regularity and were pointed out as an example by the authorities. An alteration was made in the time, chapel not beginning until thirty minutes later, and the dean was astounded to see that none of these men, so regular before, was present. He sent for them and asked the reason.

"Well, sir," said one, "it's like this: When chapel was at half past 7 we could just manage it, but we can't keep awake till 8 o'clock."—Harper's Weekly.

On Ice.

"Yes," said Alkali Ike, "a couple o' cow punchers indulged in a very pretty scientific scrap down at Bad Bucko's yesterday."

"It's wonderful how cool those fellows keep under the circumstances," remarked the eastern tourist.

"Yaas; they certainly have to be kept cool, stranger. I believe, for some reason or other, their funerals ain't to be for a couple o' days yet."—Philadelphia Press.

HARVEY WATTERSON KILLED IN FALL

PLUNGED FROM SKYSCRAPER

Believed to Have Been an Accident—Had No Financial or Domestic Troubles—Junior Member New York Law Firm.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 11.—Harvey W. Watterson, a lawyer and younger son of Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier Journal, plunged to his death from the nineteenth floor of the office building at 37 Wall street late today. His body shot downward for 110 feet and landed on the roof of a 10 story building adjoining. Almost every bone was broken and the head crushed and death was practically instantaneous.

While there were no eye witnesses to the tragedy, evidently it was entirely accidental. Mr. Watterson's hat and overcoat were on his closed desk. Presumably he had attempted to lower the window and either stumbling over the radiator which was in front of the low sill or losing his footing in some manner unknown, pitched forward and down to death on the roof below.

Mr. Watterson was 30 years old and married. He was junior member of the law firm of Wing, Russell & Watterson.

Shortly before 4 o'clock Mr. Watterson left the office library remarking that he was going home and passed from the library through the office of F. R. Bagg, the managing clerk, into his private office, the door of which closed and locked automatically as he entered. Bagg was the last person to see the young lawyer alive.

A few minutes later the superintendent of the building rushed in and informed Thomas Ewing, senior member of the firm, that he believed Mr. Watterson had fallen from the window, and looked down from the window. The mangled form was seen lying on the roof below.

The body was removed to the Watterson home after the coroner had declared that the death of Mr. Watterson was due entirely to accident.

A peculiar feature of the case was that Mr. Watterson's watch and cigarette case in one pocket and a pipe in another pocket were not damaged by the fall.

Mrs. Watterson was prostrated when informed of her husband's tragic death.

Mr. Wing said that Watterson became a member of the firm about two years after he was graduated from Columbia University law school. He was sure, he said, that death was accidental, since Watterson had no financial or domestic troubles.

Watterson was born and reared in Louisville, Ky. When about 21 years old he came to New York and entered the Columbia University law school. During the time he was a student there he taught in a night school.

Shortly after becoming a member of the firm of Wing, Russell & Watterson, he ran for the Assembly on the Tammany ticket in an upper Westside district, but the district was strongly Republican and he was defeated.

Editor Watterson Grief Stricken.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 11.—News of the tragic death of Harvey W. Watterson first came to friends of the father, Henry Watterson, editor of the Courier-Journal, telephone communication with the latter's country home, 14 miles from the city, was stopped. Friends deputed to Mrs. Benjamin Ridgley, widow of a former consul general to Mexico, the difficult task of telling the father.

Mrs. Ridgley, bereaved a few weeks ago, accomplished her mission in the best manner possible and tonight the editor is benumbed by grief while hundreds of telegrams are already pouring in offering condolence and sympathy.

The bond between Mr. Watterson and his son was unusually strong, their interest in politics and National affairs being common, and the father's satisfaction at the rapidly widening career of the son was great.

Mr. Watterson is unable to undertake a journey to New York and Mrs. Harvey Watterson was asked to bring the body to Louisville and this probably will be done on Friday or Saturday. The funeral probably will be held on Sunday.

BODY OF ANDREE FOUND.

His Grave Found on Coast of Northern Labrador.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Copenhagen, Nov. 11.—There is reason to believe that the body of Professor S. A. Andree, the Arctic explorer who in 1897 made an attempt to reach the North Pole in a balloon, has been found on the coast of Labrador.

A letter received here from the captain of the Danish steamer Inga, dated Larador, September 30th, reports that Captain Chalker, skipper of the American schooner Pelops, of Conception Bay, New Foundland, discovered in Northern Labrador a cross bearing the name "Andree" and that beneath this cross he found a body and a box of documents.

A Sure-enough Knocker.

J. C. Goodwin, of Reidsville, N. C., says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve is a sure-enough knocker for ulcers. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but that wonderful salve knocked it out in a few rounds. Not even a scar remained." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c at R. R. Bellamy's drug store.

SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS

Anticipated on Investigation of The Carmack-Cooper Tragedy.

OTHER PERSONS INVOLVED

Is Charge Made by Friends of Carmack—Claim the Coopers Were Warned of Carmack's Appearance on Street.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 11.—A State warrant charging him with the murder of former United States Senator E. W. Carmack was served on Robin Cooper at a hospital today. Cooper is now in charge of three deputy sheriffs. He will be removed to the county jail as soon as his condition admits. It has developed, according to the physician who is attending young Cooper, that two shots were fired at the young man, one penetrating his shoulder and the other going through his coat sleeve. The excitement in this city over the terrible tragedy of Monday afternoon has to a certain extent abated, yet the tragedy is still the sole topic of conversation in political circles both in this city and throughout the State. Colonel Cooper, who was with his son when the latter shot Mr. Carmack, has been remanded to jail without bond, charged with murder. Young Cooper remains under guard at a local hospital where his wounded arm is being treated. His preliminary trial on the charge of murder will be held as soon as he is able to leave the hospital. Both the Cooper's and Senator Carmack have many friends here and throughout the State.

Cooper's statement is that the affair was merely a street duel in which both sides met and both began firing. The friends of the Cooper's claim they had tried to avoid a meeting with Carmack, and it is said they were on their way to the State capitol in response to a telephone message from Governor Patterson when the tragedy occurred; that Senator Carmack had been warned and was expecting trouble.

Friends of Senator Carmack strenuously claim that the killing was the result of a conspiracy pure and simple; that he was waylaid; that when Senator Carmack left the Tennesseean office for his boarding house the fact was telephoned from a house near the Tennesseean office and the Coopers were notified that the Senator was on his way and to be on the alert.

It now develops, according to friends of Mr. Carmack, that there was a third party with the Coopers just before the shooting, a former county official who is a close personal friend of both the Coopers and Patterson. Friends of the dead Senator intimate that there will be sensational developments within the next day or so regarding the affair.

The Cooper family is one of the most prominent in Tennessee. Colonel Cooper and his son Robin will have the best legal talent when the case comes up for trial. Friends of Senator Carmack will see to it that the prosecution has able counsel.

DUTY ON BARYTES.

Democrats Favor Increase of Tariff; Republicans Oppose.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 11.—The Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee favoring an increase in the rate of duty and the Republican members assuming an attitude against a protective rate on "barytes" was the unusual situation which developed at today's hearing before the committee. Former Representative M. E. Rhoades, and A. G. Nelson, of St. Louis; S. M. Evans, of North Carolina, and Charles J. Staples, of Buffalo, N. Y., spoke in favor of increasing the duty on crude barytes and when Mr. Evans took up the argument speaking of the baryites deposits in North Carolina, Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee, the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee became interested. Representative Pou, of North Carolina, a Democrat, told Mr. Evans that if he could show that the mining of baryes was made unprofitable because of the prevailing tariff he would have the support of the minority members of the committee in the recommendation for an increase in the duties.

Despite the assertion by Mr. Rhoades that Missouri was carried in the last election for William H. Taft because of the belief that a higher protective tariff would be enacted, the Republican members of the committee, led by Chairman Payne, and Representatives Longworth and Boutell apparently desired to bring out the fact that no higher duty was necessary on barytes.

The hearing on the proposed revision as affecting the schedule on chemicals, oils and paints was completed. The arguments presented today in the main were technical and in favor of the retention of the present rates of duty.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong; He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complains. PRICE OF COTTON BEING DISCUSSED

Farmers' Union at New Orleans and Conference of Planters at Memphis.

BACK TO LAST YEAR'S LEVEL

Responsibilities For Night Riding Outrages Disclaimed—Chinese Editor Will Speak Today—Notable Addresses.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—That it is within the powers of the planters of the South to bring the price of cotton back to last year's levels, was the declaration of President C. S. Barrett, of Georgia, when he formally opened the convention of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union here today.

"And when we succeed in restoring the prices of cotton to the figures that ruled last year we will be richer by $150,000,000," said Mr. Barrett, amid the applause of a thousand or more delegates gathered in New Orleans coliseum. He said that meddlesome newspapers and busy bodies had sought to connect the Farmers Union with the night riders. It was illogical and unjust to accuse members of the Union with the depredations of the night riders. He said the Union was in existence to gain its ends, but did not need and will not invoke lawless methods. The Union had no sympathy with the night riders and would take the initiative to rid the country of them.

He said that during this convention there would come into the councils of the Union for the first time, business men and representatives of the South's commercial interests and all would be welcomed, the Union viewing their willingness to co-operate in this campaign for better priced cotton as an evidence of good faith.

The Union originally planned to build a mammoth warehouse at New Orleans, but a majority of the delegates not only favor a large central warehouse here but other warehouses in Texas, Mississippi, Alagama, Georgia, Tennessee, Arkansas and elsewhere.

Farmers, according to the plan are to store their cotton in these warehouses where it is to be held until the market suits their fancy. In the meantime warehouse certificates are to be issued for the amount of cotton stored. The certificates will be negotiable at the banks. Already New Orleans bankers have given assurances that probably $50,000 could be advanced in this manner here.

Among the notable addresses to be delivered during the convention will be that of Li Sum Ling, editor of the Hong Kong Chinese Mail, who says he will tell the delegates that nothing makes a Chinaman so happy as wearing a shirt made of Southern cotton. In an interview today the Chinese editor declared that he was an advocate of a Chinese-American alliance and that he would speak along these lines tomorrow evening.

Governor Hoke Smith, of Georgia; Governor J. Y. Sanders, of Louisiana; Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia; C. T. Ladson and F. L. Seeley, of Atlanta, and John M. Parker, of New Orleans, are among those slated for addresses on the official programme.

Planters at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 11.—The establishment of a central bureau for the distribution of data with regard to the cotton crop was tentatively approved by the conference of planters and others whose interests are associated with the production of cotton here today as a means of enabling the farmer to keep in closer touch with conditions throughout the cotton belt and more judiciously market the crop. The resolution which was introduced by E. H. Frazier, of Atlanta, Ga., was adopted subject to a revision by a special committee.

Another plan for the betterment of the method of handling the crop was suggested by H. H. Rogers, of Louisville, Miss., who proposed the formation of an association along the lines of the National Farmers' Union, the membership, however, to include all those whose interests are allied with the growth and marketing of the staple. Action on Mr. Rogers' proposition was deferred.

Today's discussions dealth with practically every phase of present conditions in the South as they affect the planter. The amendment of recently enecated State laws so as to allow future dealing on legitimate exchanges was urged by J. A. Taylor, president of the National Ginners' Association, in the course of an address dealing with so-called "Night Riders" He declared that there had been but few night rider depredations in the cotton belt. The posting of gins he said was not by organized bands, but by individuals under the mistaken idea that ginners could be intimidated and the ginning of cotton stopped, causing the prices of the staple to advance. The posting of gins, he declared, was without question because of the low price of cotton.

T. H. Sisson, a prominent planter of Winona, Miss., took the United States government to task for what he termed a lack of encouragement to the Southern planter. He declared that the central warehouse idea advanced by Mr. Frazier should be accorded substantial endorsement by the Federal government. Others who spoke today were W. F. Turner, of Memphis; United States Senator-elect E. D. Smith, and J. A. Evans, director of the Government experiment station at Shreveport, La.

Mr. Turner discussed the handling, compressing and storing of cotton and Mr. Smith had for his subject "The Present Cotton Situation." Mr. Evans spoke of the boll weevil menace.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY

Joint Celebration in Dedicating a Monument to Massachusetts Soldiers Buried at Newbern, Erected by The State.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Newbern, N. C., Nov. 11.—In the presence of a representative assemblage, including veterans of both the Union and Confederate armies, a monument commemorating the valor of the soldiers of Massachusetts who are buried here was dedicated today. The shaft was erected under a provision of the Massachusetts Legislature. Mayor Bryan, of Newbern, delivered a welcoming address, Rev. Dr. E. H. Hall, formerly chaplain of the 44th Massachusetts regiment, offered prayer; Capt. A. A. Putnam, of the 2nd Massachusetts Artillery, delivered an address and "The Blue and the Gray" and other patriotic songs enlivened the programme. The monument was unveiled by Mrs. Dugan, Mrs. Hartsfield and Mrs. Sprague.

The principal address on behalf of the State of Massachusetts was delivered by William D. Chappelle.

Governor Guild was delayed at home by illness and was represented by Brigadier General William H. Brigham, his Chief of Staff. The Confederate Veterans, the Daughters of the Confederacy, and Children of the Confederacy organizations, the Kinston (N. C.) Rifles and the Newbern Naval Reserves participated in the exercises. All schools and banks and many business houses were closed. After the exercises the Daughters of the Confederacy entertained the visitors with a banquet.

A Paying Investment.

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
